

A little help from you is a big help for others

LittleBigHelp India Trust celebrated the 77th Independence Day across its project areas, where both children and team members actively participated by hoisting the Indian National Flag and singing the National Anthem. This celebration served as a valuable opportunity for the children to gain a deeper understanding of the significance of Independence Day and the importance of this historic occasion.

Rakhi was celebrated with great joy and enthusiasm at the LittleBigHelp Hostels, bringing together children in a heartwarming display of love and unity. The day began with traditional Rakhi-tying ceremony, where the children exchanged Rakhis, symbolizing their bond of protection and care for each other.

International Youth Day was celebrated with skill development trainees across slum communities from 12th to 21st August. The event raised awareness on digital addiction, climate change, gender equality, and health. A yoga session emphasized physical and mental well-being, while discussions focused on healthier digital habits and environmental conservation. Trainees showcased exhibits made from recycled materials, promoted gender equality through speeches, highlighted financial literacy with self-made piggy banks, and planted saplings to support environmental conservation.
